

IMPLEMENTATION GUIDELINES OF REMOTE SUPERVISION FOR MASTER'S AND DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY PROGRAMMES IN RESEARCH MODE

INTRODUCTION

Remote Supervision is a supervisory method involving local and international students conducting research outside the campus and abroad. Full-time and Part-time Remote Supervision method is open to local students, but only on a full-time basis for international students conducting research outside the campus, whether within or outside the country.

REQUIREMENTS

1. Must have the ability to conduct independent research over a period of five (5) years at the time of application.
2. Appointment of a Field Supervisor is the responsibility of the Faculty, depending on the field and research requirements.
3. Master's students must pass two (2) Competency Courses, while PhD's students must pass three (3) Competency Courses as recommended by the Principal Supervisor as a requirement for the award.
4. Candidates without qualifications in the field must pass prerequisite courses before commencing their studies, as stated in the latest UMPSA Graduate Studies Academic Regulations Book.
